Electrically adjustable tables

Whether to sit or stand, is your choice!

Recommended position during the day

It is not recommended for a person to spend a working day in one fixed sitting position.

Change of position is the best way to relax one's body, thus, also taking care of one's health.

Physiotherapists recommend spending at least 2 h a day in a standing position for people who have a sitting work routine.

Health problems subside

Circulation improves and energy increases

Brain function improves
